

Puppies, Penguins, and Tap Shoes: It must be Puppy Love for Seth and Nora

Seth told GGIE that his girlfriend, Nora, wanted a "WOW" proposal- something unique and creative...and must involve animals. Seth and Nora were currently in a long distance relationship- with Seth in Veterinary school in Florida and Nora in Med school in New Jersey. First, GGIE learned that Nora had a variety of interests and hobbies outside of medicine. With that in mind, Jenifour and her team decided to help Seth create a proposal that incorporated many aspects of Nora's enthusiastic personality.

Seth told GGIE a few fun facts about Nora: Her nickname was Green M&M because she loved the candy, she adored animals- especially puppies and baby penguins, and she missed tap dancing, one of her previous hobbies. "Seth really wanted her to hold a baby penguin for the proposal," says Jones. "This was a dream of hers so we called all the NYC zoos and they said, unfortunately, holding a penguin is strictly forbidden." Not one to be easily discouraged, Seth and Jenifour decided not to completely abandon the whole penguin theme...and began to strategize.

On the day of the proposal, Seth secretly flew from Florida to New York. While he was landing at JFK (and picking up a special surprise...more on that later) a limo picked up Nora and drove her into NYC, where she was treated to a spa manicure, massage and a box of green M&Ms (her favorite!)-with pictures of Nora and Seth printed on each one.

A clue inside the candy box led Nora to the M&M store in Times Square, where she was instructed to find the "World's largest M&M." A large Lady Green was waiting for Nora on the 2nd floor with a present- a pair of new tap shoes. Thrilled, the former tap dancer was then brought to the fountain at The Plaza Hotel, where a professional tap dancer gave her a lesson. She loved every minute of it and wasn't shy about showing off her dance skills in front of a large crowd.

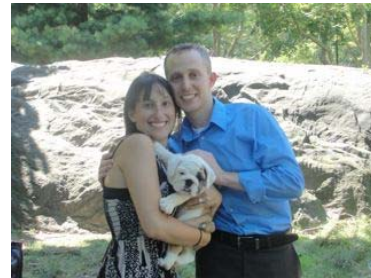

While dancing, a NYC street artist began to sketch her the next clue: The next stop- find the penguin exhibit at the Central Park Zoo! With that, a rickshaw pulled up and dropped her off moments later at the Zoo entrance. In front of the penguins, a seemingly random child handed her a special note in a personalized over-sized ring box. The small note instructed her to meet Seth in five minutes at a special place in the park. Dropped off in a beautiful clearing under trees, Nora found a picnic area arranged with a stuffed baby penguin holding a scroll.

As Nora read the note, Seth came up from behind and surprised her with a proposal. Still glowing from the good news, he asked her to close her eyes as he had one more surprise. As she waited to see what could top this, he reached behind her and held up a new puppy- something that she had wanted for years!

After the proposal, Nora and Seth's family all met to celebrate in Central Park. The GGIE team said goodbye to the clients (and puppy) and congratulated the happy couple. Looks like Nora will be moving to Florida with her new fiancé, her new puppy, and a heartwarming, one-of-a-kind engagement story.

Start planning a great story now!

Congratulations are in order for....

Lindsey Horsemen and Bill Pincus
Married at Gardens at Ray Eden in Louisville, KY

by Todd Nichols

Click here for more photos

Wedding Planning by Go Get It Events

Photos

Start planning your wedding now!

Go Get It Events comes to the Rescue when booking a trip to BALI

We received a call from our client two weeks before his wedding. "Our trip to India has been canceled and we need your help booking our honeymoon to Bali!" Very quickly we went to work and by the end of the week, we had our client and his fiancée booked at two Aman Resorts (Amanusa and Amakila) and their own private Villa in Ubud.

Because of our relationships with the hotels, we were able to get our client not only half off rates on hotels but upgraded to suites with complimentary spa visits and meals. They also received discount business class airfare.

Did you know we offer trip planning for FREE?

Whether for business or pleasure, It never costs you a penny to book with us and we guarantee you the best rates and complimentary upgrades to many hotels.

Book your trip today!

Go Get It Events creative services include...

Weddings

"The Escapade"
Romantic Adventures

Marriage Proposals

Event Planning

Room Decor

Travel & Honeymoon Planning

Thank you dear readers, clients and friends. We hope you enjoyed our story and newsletter. The next time you have a unique, creative, or special event to celebrate or plan, please contact us.

Winter travel season has begun! If you have a trip coming up, please let us know. We would be happy to get you the best rates out there.

Have a wonderful day and keep it original!

Sincerely,

Jenifour Jones
Founder
Go Get It Events
www.GoGetIt.org
p. 323.953.0678
p. 212.252.2362

Forward email

This email was forwarded to tpringle@inwardsolutions.com, by t.
Privacy Policy.

Email Marketing by

