

TV's Top Chef and The Biggest Loser contestants team up with Go Get It Events to give clients a wonderful experience.

"Top Chef" Dinner Party

Go Get It Events (www.GoGetIt.org) spent their spring and summer planning remarkable events on both coasts.

In Los Angeles, a request came in to organize a nice but relaxed dinner experience for fifty 'movers and shakers' in the world of academia, which included the Governor and the heads of the California Unified School district. The goal of the evening was to provide an unique dining event for the guest who had been in advisory board meetings all weekend.

At the start of their special evening, guests were invited to a cocktail hour at a Malibu vineyard where they mingled not just with each other, but with the llamas, zebras, horses and bison that were on-site. At the cocktail hour, two large and colorful hot air balloons--which provided amazing, sweeping views of Malibu--were waiting to give rides. Guest sampled food from wine, chocolate, cheese and salsa tasting stations.

At sunset, a trolley transported guests to an outdoor wine tasting room for dinner, where they were entertained by a Latin band and a flamenco dancer while they dined on paella and enjoyed sangria. Just when the crowd thought their evening couldn't get any 'sweeter,' they were treated to unique entertainment---a dessert-making contest between chefs Betty Frasier and Marisa Churchill from Season 2 of Bravo TV's hit show 'Top Chef.'" Of course, Betty and Marisa couldn't cook alone--they had some help from their audience assistants--the two CEO's gladly assisted the chefs in action. Overall, the corporate event was a well-received success, for both GGIE and their guests. And Betty Frasier's Melted Chocolate Bacon Sandwich with Cherries Jubilee Flambe won the desert-making competition.

A "Loser" Proposal

Meanwhile, in New York City, Go Get It Events was also helping Jimmy prepare a special, personalized proposal for his love, Blandine. Blandine loved the show The Biggest Loser, so Jimmy wanted GGIE to assist him in incorporating the show into his proposal. President Jenifour Jones immediately went to work contacting Blandine's all-time favorite ABC contestants. One of them, Trent, from Season 5 was thrilled to be a part of Jimmy and Blandine's special moment.

When Jimmy took Blandine to NYC under the guise of a day trip, they stopped by the Waldorf Astoria hotel for a drink at the bar. When Jimmy excused himself to use the restroom, a GGIE coordinator handed Blandine a small gift bag. Intrigued, she opened it up to find an autographed photo of Trent, a signed Biggest Loser T-shirt and a mysterious room key. A handwritten note from Trent read, "To an inspirational woman. You have a gift waiting for you in Room 817. But first please put this T-Shirt on then use this enclosed key." Blandine happily obliged and raced up to the room 817 to see what else was in store for her.

Go Get It Events designer Jen Valdez had decorated Jimmy and Blandine's hotel suite with thousands of pink and white rose petals (her favorite) along with her favorite candles, flowers, scents and fruit. Blandine walked into the room wearing her Biggest Loser T-shirt to find Jimmy standing there smiling with his matching T-shirt. He got down on one knee and proposed while the both of them laughed at their funny but totally-perfect-for-them proposal. She said Yes!

The two later returned to the downstairs bar, where they were greeted by another surprise- all of Blandine's friends and family members had been brought in. And thanks to the Go Get It Events team, this was one proposal that was off-the-scale perfect for these two fitness fans.

Go Get It Events services include...

Weddings

Cinematic and Custom Events
(Our signature service)

Marriage Proposals

Special and Corporate Events

Room Decor

Fashion Shows

We are happy to announce our new partnership with Elena Borrero Travel Services, LLC.

Go Get It Events can now take care of any of your travel needs!

Contact us today

Thank you dear readers, clients and friends. We hope you enjoyed our stories. The next time you would have a special or corporate event to celebrate or plan, please contact us.

Have a wonderful day.

Sincerely,

Jenifour Jones
Go Get It Events
www.GoGetIt.org
p. 323.953.0678
p. 212.252.2362

Forward email

This email was forwarded to cevans@inwardsolutions.com, by Jenifour Jones.
Privacy Policy.

Email Marketing by

